A Message from Keith Watson, CPO, owner and CEO of Fourroux Prosthetics

I've been with Fourroux Prosthetics since 1994, and an ABC CPO since 1997. For 25 years I've been involved with the care of amputees with Fourroux Prosthetics, which was founded in 1955 by the Fourroux family. My path inside Fourroux has led me through technical work, through O&P Programs with dual certification, and into a clinical role for most of my career.

I found my calling over 25 years ago and was lucky enough to find a group of people with the same passion for helping people who wanted—above all—to make amputees' lives better.

Because of the tremendous efforts of our clinical and administrative leaders, over the past seven years Fourroux Prosthetics has grown to six full-time, stand-alone facilities in Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia, and Missouri. During this time, we have developed and fine-tuned the Fourroux Methods, which ensure progressive positive outcomes for patients and their families. Based on our patented and protected methods, we can provide a custom designed definitive prosthetic device in one day to amputees in every Fourroux location. Fourroux Prosthetics is different—plain and simple. We operate utilizing a U.S. Patented and proven method to successfully fit thousands of amputees with custom devices since 2005. Fourroux continues to remain on the cutting edge of development in transtibial TSB socket fitting and transfemoral CAD development and design.

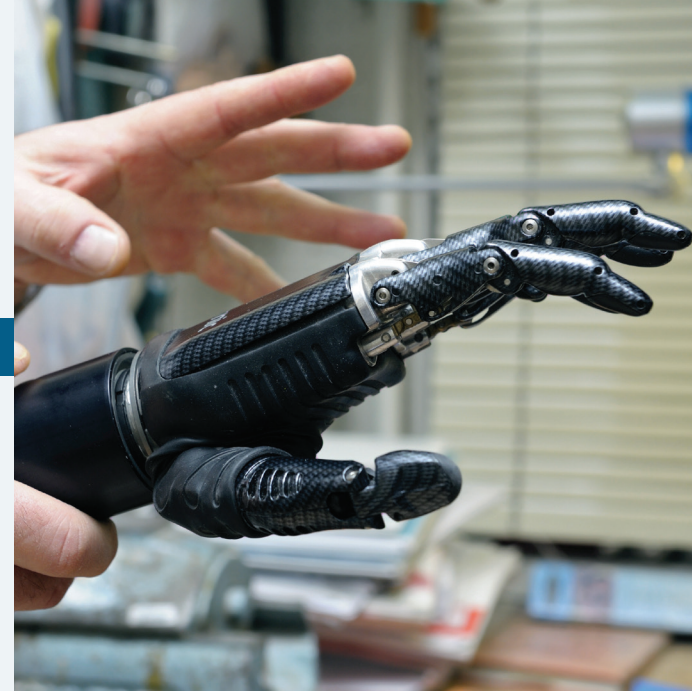

Because of this, and a deeply rooted desire throughout our company to help more amputees, we are expanding throughout the Southeastern region of the United States.

If you are a CP or a CPO whose focus is primarily on prosthetic patients, a resident who is drawn to helping amputees, or a technician trained and working in fabrication, and if any of this resonates with you, we would like to speak with you. We have identified specific locations throughout the Southeast, based on the needs of the current amputee population, where our services would be of value.
