Developed in cooperation with Warren Mays, CPO, of Artisan Orthotic Prosthetic Technologies in Tualatin, Oregon, the Artisan™ Orthosis is, in Mr. Mays' words, "a perfect solution in today's world of reduced insurance dollars and expedited hospital stays, where getting a well-fitted TLSO on a patient as quickly as possible is paramount.

"In a perfect world, every orthotist would like to provide a custom TLSO, but in the real world, this is often not possible. Besides, 'custom' orthoses done by measurement are often no more 'custom' than properly fitted prefabricated orthoses.

"Hospitals are in a hurry to discharge the patient, because medical science has shown that the quicker a patient can get out of bed, following a surgery or injury, the quicker he or she will heal.

"The Artisan Orthosis, a system that has been proven by me and others in trauma hospitals for over ten years, is now available to all orthotists. Near-custom fit, support and comfort is routinely achieved using the bi-valve TLSO configuration.

"Now, with HOPE Orthopedic's innovative adjustable-extension Sternal-Pectoral (STP) Extender, the Artisan Orthosis may just be the perfect solution for both emergency and non-emergency patients.

"Stocking five sizes of male and female modules ensures me that I can fit virtually any patient, quickly and accurately. Time and again, proper spinal support and protection has been radiographically documented with the Artisan Orthosis."

Thank you, Mr. Mays.

We couldn't have said it better ourselves!
